Gibrón,

Over half of all global email traffic is spam.

According to Cisco Systems, some 320 billion spam emails are sent every day, and 94% of malware is delivered via this medium.

Popular spam subjects often include pharmaceuticals, adult content, financial services, online degrees, work-from-home jobs, online gambling, and cryptocurrencies. Marking spam as spam when an unsolicited email makes an appearance in your inbox, never just delete it.

Build a fence around your website with an SSL Certificate— a digital certificate that authenticates the identity of a website and encrypts information sent to the server using SSL technology.
